Dear Friends in Christ

I am going to give you a challenge. It is one that will last the whole year. So be careful before taking me up on it! That being said, I do think we can all handle it and as Catholics, it is part of what it means to be a disciple. So here goes.

I want you to spend the next couple months reflecting on and discerning one person in your life that God wants you to invite into the Church or back to the Church. There are always people we should be encouraging in terms of faith. But I want you to identify just one person. This may be a friend, family member, or coworker. They may live nearby or perhaps a bit farther afield. But it is someone with whom you have regular contact. On the first Sunday of Advent, at the beginning of our Liturgical Year, I will ask each of you to write the first name of this person you have chosen on a card that will be collected and placed near the altar. Then together, as a parish we will begin a spiritual pilgrimage for them.

On the parish side, we will start offering our Wednesday 7am Mass at SKD, every week, for the next 12 months, for those people you have chosen. Each of us as well will commit to regular prayer and fasting for that person in our lives.

As a relevant sidenote, if you have not yet lived the 3 Conversations, I will encourage you to sign up to participate in a group to do them. If you already have a group of people in mind let us know. If not, we can match you up with a group. Just call the parish office. Part of the power of the 3 Conversations is becoming comfortable sharing a bit more about your own faith journey and how God's grace has moved in your life.

This level of openness will make the other part of this easier. That is, to make the habit of reaching out and speaking with this person you feel called to shepherd back to the Lord. That means talking with them, listening to their stories and ideas, and finding out where their hurts and joys are. Perhaps find out why they drifted from the Church or why they have never gone in the first place. There is power in listening to people's stories in a loving and respectful way. And it is as we listen, that we can also open up and share our own stories and how the Lord has blessed us through the Church and sacraments.

And with that, as well, you will be encouraged to invite them to things. Perhaps it won't be Mass right away but perhaps a dinner or a bible study or a gathering of a small group. And especially as Fall returns next year, invite them to RCIA or Catholics Returning Home or a Bible Study.

If you have any questions, let me know. But please consider spending this time asking the Lord for guidance so that you might see who He has placed in your life to lead them back to His mercy. Our patron for this journey will be St. Monica, who spent many years in prayer and fasting for her son St. Augustine.

This is also the Month of the Rosary alongside Respect Life Month. Consider making a commitment to praying the Rosary each day this month or every Sunday as a family.

May God bless you this week!
